

1. The Council's Constitution

Carmarthenshire County Council has agreed a constitution which sets out how the Council operates, how decisions are made and the procedures which are followed to ensure that these are efficient, transparent and accountable to local people. Some of these processes are required by the law, while others are a matter for the Council to choose.

The Constitution is divided into 16 articles which set out the basic rules governing the Council's business. More detailed procedures and codes of practice are provided in separate rules and protocols at the end of the document.

2. What's in the Constitution?

2.1 Article 1 of the Constitution commits the Council to making decisions in an efficient efficient and effective way, giving leadership within the community, working in partnership with others and taking into account of local views. Articles 2 –15 explain the rights of citizens and how the key parts of the Council operate. These are:

- Members of the Council (Article 2)
- Citizens and the Council (Article 3)
- Functions and meetings of the Council (Article 4)
- Chairing the Council (Article 5)
- Scrutiny Committees (Article 6)
- The Cabinet (Article 7)
- Regulatory committees (Article 8)
- The Standards Committee (Article 9)
- Joint arrangements (Article 10)
- Officers (Article 11)
- Decision making (Article 12)
- Finance, contracts and legal matters (Article 13)
- Review and revision of the Constitution (Article 14)
- Suspension, interpretation and publication of the Constitution (Article 15)

3. How the Council Operates

3.1 The Council is composed of 74 councillors normally elected every five-years. Councillors are democratically accountable to residents of their electoral division. The overriding duty of councillors is to the whole community, but they have a special duty to their constituents, including those who did not vote for them.

3.2 Councillors have to agree to follow a code of conduct to ensure high standards in the way they undertake their duties. The Standards Committee arranges training and advises them on the code of conduct.

3.3 All councillors meet together as the Council, (a change in rules in 2021 now allows the Council to meet in person, virtually or a hybrid of both. Meetings of the Council are normally open to the public, and some meetings are also webcast live on the Council's website. Here councillors decide the Council's overall policies and set the budget each year. The Council has a Cabinet which is responsible in turn for implementing policies agreed by the Council and taking executive decisions on matters which are not the responsibility of the Council or of one of its committees. The Council also approves the Constitution, the forward programme and the rules of debate for meetings of the Council, the Cabinet and Committees

4. How Decisions are Made

- a) The Cabinet is the part of the Council which is responsible for taking most of the major decisions. The Cabinet is made up of a maximum of ten councillors (subject to paragraph 4 (c) below). The Leader is appointed by the Council and then appoints the remaining members of the Cabinet which will include up to 2 Deputy Leaders. The business to be considered by the Cabinet, Scrutiny Committees and the Council as a whole is published in their Forward Programmes. Meetings of the Cabinet, Scrutiny Committees, the Council and other committees are open for the public to attend except where personal or confidential matters are being discussed, as defined by the law. The Cabinet has to make decisions which are in line with the Council's overall policies and budget. If it wishes to make a decision which is outside the budget or policy framework, this will usually be referred to the Council as a whole. There are certain exceptions to this procedure which are set out in the Budget and Policy Framework Procedure Rules which are set out in Part 4 of this Constitution.
- b) The Leader may appoint 'Assistants to the Executive' who are not members of the Cabinet but who are entitled to attend, and speak at, any meeting of the Cabinet or any of the Cabinet's Committees. (Comes into force 1st May 2022)
- c) The Leader also has the power to appoint a job share Leader and job share Cabinet Members provided that the maximum number on the Cabinet does not exceed thirteen. (Comes into force 1st May 2022)

5. Scrutiny

There is a Policy and Resources Scrutiny Committee and 4 other scrutiny committees which support the work of the Cabinet and the Council as a whole. They can review matters within their terms of reference and invite outside representatives to contribute to their proceedings, either on a one off basis or as non voting members. These Committees submit their views and recommendations for consideration by the Cabinet and the Council as a whole on its policy and service delivery. Scrutiny Committees also monitor the decisions of the executive. They can 'call-in' a decision which has been made by the Cabinet, individual Members of the Cabinet or an officer that has not yet been implemented. This enables them to consider whether the decision is appropriate. They may recommend that the decision maker reconsider the decision. They may also be consulted by the Cabinet or the Council on forthcoming items of business in the forward programme.

6. The Council's Staff

Council employees give advice, implement decisions and manage the day-to-day delivery of its services. Some officers have a specific duty to ensure that the Council acts within the law and uses its resources wisely. A code of practice governs the relationships between officers and members of the council. (Part 5 of the Constitution)

7. Citizens' Rights

7.1 Citizens have a number of rights in their dealings with the Council. These are set out in more detail in Article 3. Some of these are legal rights, whilst others depend on the Council's own processes. Where members of the public use specific council services, for example as a parent of a school pupil or as a council tenant, they have additional rights. These are not covered in this Constitution. Citizens have the right to:

Complaints can be made in person, by telephone, in writing or by e-mail. They are dealt with by the relevant department and there is a right of appeal, eventually to the Chief Executive if complainants are dissatisfied with the response received. The Council uses complaints as a way of bringing about continuous service improvement, by looking at the reasons for complaints, taking appropriate action to resolve problems and addressing shortcomings in processes and procedures;
- complain to the Ombudsman if they think they have suffered injustice because the Council has not followed its procedures properly. However, they are encouraged only to do this after using the Council's own complaints process;

- complain in writing to the Ombudsman if they have evidence which they think shows that a councillor or co-opted member of the council has not followed the Members' Code of Conduct; and
- inspect the Council's accounts and make their views known to the external auditor.
