Fact Sheet 17

(Updated May 2023)

Complaints

If you are unhappy with your care and support, you have a right to complain. We aim for high standards but sometimes things do go wrong. Unless you tell us, however, we will not know that you are unhappy. If you contact us, we will be able to work with you to put things right as soon as possible. This fact sheet explains how, with your help and that of the staff working with you, we can sort out your complaint. Guidance from the Welsh Government tells us how we must sort out complaints.

Looking after your personal information

If you make a complaint, wherever possible we will respect your right to confidentiality. Although we will need to share the information you give us with others in order to address your complaint. We will only do this if necessary. To find out more about how we use your information as part of the complaints process, view our privacy notices at: www.carmarthenshire.gov.wales/privacy-notice. If you are unable to access the privacy notices online and you wish to receive a copy, please contact 01267 228703.

Who can make a complaint?

Any member of the public, including a child, who has received, or was entitled to receive a social care service provided by Carmarthenshire County Council or a service commissioned by the Council, may make a complaint.

For more information on social care services log onto:
www.carmarthenshire.gov.wales/socialcare

You may make a complaint on behalf of someone else, where that person:

- Is a child
- Has requested you to act on their behalf
- Lacks mental capacity to decide to make a complaint for themselves
- Has died

However, we will need to decide if you have sufficient interest in the welfare of the individual and be suitable to act in their best interest.

Can I ask someone to help me with my complaint?

If you need help to raise a concern, Llais, your voice in health and social care, can help you do this. Llais is an independent body, and its free advocacy service can provide information, advice and support to members of the public who may wish to raise a concern.

Llais can support you to raise a concern and give advice on the most appropriate course of action. You can contact your local Llais office at the following address:

The complaint process

A complaint should usually be made within 12 months from the date that the concern arose.

There are two stages in the complaints process:

Stage 1 – Local Resolution

Stage 2 – Formal Investigation

Stage 1 – Local Resolution –The first step in sorting out a problem is to contact someone involved in providing the service or, if you prefer, our Complaints and Compliments Team. This is known as local resolution.

Do not be afraid to complain. We will take your complaint seriously and will welcome all your comments.

We will acknowledge receipt of your complaint within 2 working days. You may contact us in any way you choose, you do not have to write your complaint down. You can tell us your complaint and we will make a written note of it.

How will we sort it out?

In an attempt to resolve matters, we will offer to discuss your complaint with you (either face to face or by telephone).

- We may agree to do what you ask
- We may have to apologise to you for having made mistakes
- We may have to explain things better

The person looking into your complaint might need to read your file and ask questions before deciding on what should be done.

How long will it take?

This discussion must take place within 10 working days of the date of acknowledgement. Following the discussion, we will write to you within 5 working days.

Do all complaints have to go through Stage 1?

No, if you would prefer, you have the right to ask us to consider your complaint at stage 2 without it having first been considered at stage 1. We also have the discretion to take your complaint directly to stage 2 if we think that it is inappropriate for it to be dealt with initially at stage 1.

What can I do if I am still not happy with the outcome of stage 1?

You may ask for your complaint to be investigated by someone who is not involved with Carmarthenshire County Council at all, known as an independent investigator. This is known as Stage 2 or formal investigation.

Stage 2 - Formal Investigation

If your complaint is progressed to Stage 2, within 5 working days of your request for your complaint to be formally investigated, we will write to you and make sure that we understand the details of your complaint and the outcome you would like to achieve. The date on which you have confirmed the detail of your complaint and the Independent Investigator has been commissioned is called the 'start date.'

The complaint will be investigated by an Independent Investigator (not an employee of Carmarthenshire County Council).

The Independent Investigator will investigate the complaint:

- By talking to those involved and checking the facts
- By trying to find a way of solving the problem
- By writing a report for the Council

We will then write to you to:

- State whether the complaint is upheld or not
- Explain what action will be taken, if any
- Apologise if appropriate. A copy of the report will also be provided, unless there is a specific reason not to do so, which will be explained to you

How long will this take?

We will respond to you within 25 working days (from the start date). If there is a delay we will explain why.

Will all complaints be taken through the above process?

Some complaints will not be taken through the above process and may be more suitable through the council's corporate complaints process. If this is the case, we will advise you at the time you make the complaint.

Some complaints cannot be taken forward, for example if you want to complain on behalf of the individual who has care and support needs, but they don't want to make a complaint we will not be able to take the complaint forward, unless they are assessed as lacking mental capacity to make that decision.

There are occasions where we may place your complaint on hold because there are other ways that the issues raised in your complaint are being considered. For example if the matter is being looked through safeguarding processes or consideration is being given to court proceedings. We will advise you if these circumstances apply, and when those processes are complete, we will contact you to see if you still wish to pursue the complaint.

What if I am not sure who to complain to?

Social services work closely with lots of other organisations. You may have a complaint about a service we have arranged for you with another care provider, such as a residential care home, a home care agency, or a day service.

Each organisation will have its own complaints process and, at Stage 1 we will usually send your complaint to them and make sure they deal with it. We will tell you exactly what we are doing. If you have already complained to the other organisation, and you are not happy with their reply, then we will deal with your complaint at Stage 2. If your complaint is about something we have provided jointly with another organisation, e.g., a package of care from both health and social care staff, we will look at your complaint together and usually send you one response.

Compliments

If you want to, you can let us know when you are pleased with what we have done. You can do this by telling the staff you have contact with or by getting in touch with the Complaints and Compliments Team.

Our staff are not able to accept any form of gifts as an acknowledgement for the good work that they do.

How do I contact you?
